Dear Russ,

Either enclosed or in my next will be a couple of stories that may interest you, one from today's Wash Post and the other a review (NYRev.) of Cleaver's new book.

The papers I see have given their customary slanted and inadequate coverage to the King-Elijah-Melcolm FBI bugging and the Black Panther raids, which may be the beginning, may be a test, may be isolated from other things. However, the radio coverage from Chicago on the DC CBS station was good. I was working outside, with a transistor set, and heard graphic accounts of the wreckage of what was the office, of the claim to have been theft because files and money were taken, of the lack of search warrant, etc.

I think you can see how I might want to add this to COUP. Therefore, if you are still there, I'd appreciate any clippings you might have on either or both subjects.

Looking forward,

H
